This Purchase Order incorporates by reference our standard Conditions of Purchase (as from time to time amended, in our absolute discretion), which you have been provided with, and further copies of which are available at any time upon request or from our website at <https://www.evo-group.co.uk/suppliers>. By accepting this Purchase Order, you accept that it will incorporate our Conditions of Purchase as in place at the time we place our Purchase Order (together with any special terms we have agreed separately in writing or as stated by us on our Purchase Order), which will take precedence and prevail over any other discussions, in-principle agreement(s) or any other unconfirmed (by us) arrangements that may exist. In particular, please note that the stated required delivery date is crucial to us (because we are tied to a delivery date to our customer(s) thereafter which we cannot move) and, as such, delivery date is a fundamental term and/or condition of our contract. As such, time for delivery may be made of the essence by us giving notice in writing to you at any time (on reasonable notice) and that in all events (whether or not time for delivery is made of the essence), in the event of any non or any late delivery, we may cancel this order at any time without any liability to you.

Please Note: ANY change(s) to the product(s), quantity/ies or price(s) MUST be agreed with us prior to you beginning to process this purchase order. If you amend any of the price(s), quantity/ies or product(s) without prior written agreement this will lead to delay caused by refusal of delivery/ies (at our absolute discretion) and, whilst our position remains expressly reserved in full, if we elect to accept any quantity/ies of any good(s), any alteration or any adjustment to the quantity/ies and/or good(s) ordered (and/or the price of the same) by you without our prior written agreement will lead to delays in payment for whatever we may elect to accept delivery of (subject to appropriate revision of the price commensurate to any change(s) made by you). Please ensure that all delivery documents include the relevant purchase order (PO) number.
